

18650 cells

These cells can be a dodgy buy. There are lots of cheap ones available that are, in a word, useless. You can tell because they are light but by then you have bought them. If you want to buy some decent branded 18650s there is a UK seller that seem very competent. I got some LG ones from <https://18650.uk/>. They were heavy and took a long time to charge. Good signs I reckon.
