

Using sprayer tops for servo arm fairings

This was suggested in a Radio Control Soaring Digest.

It always seems wasteful to throw away the sprayer bottles for such as kitchen or bathroom spray cleaner. Until we can get refills for sprayers and not throw them away at all, at least we model makers can make use of one part. A case of upcycling.

The tops are usually removable. They clip on but are usually not as easy to unclip. However I have only failed completely with one. Here are some examples:

Trim to size, leaving some tabs to glue into slots. The main problem is to persuade the family buyer always to buy the products with your favourite tops.
